The device is powered by a 3V battery. Two IC's are be used. U501 is the encode/decode module which transforms the controlling key switch to voltage information. U502 is the RF transmit and module which sends the command an acknowledgement as a modulated RF signal. A 16MHz crystal is used for U502. Several capacitances are used as a filter. The Antenna is printed trace on the board.