

Manufacturer states that, due to the labeling limitations on the product, it is impracticable to label this product with the required compliance paragraph in a font that is four-point or larger in a region where the paragraph could be accessible to the end user. Therefore, this compliance paragraph has been added in the referenced user's manual, indicated on the label.