

Loop description: The Master Control reads the data from Keyboard, and collects signals from the Touchpad, then launch out the data by RF Module.

Among them, the Master Control integrates the AD and acquires the information from the capacitive touchpad directly.

Power Management provides Power.