

Technical Description:

The device sends out data regularly for the receiver to track its existence. The device will be hanged on valuable items so that users will be alerted once the item is lost.